Evidence/baseline information" a spatial portrait of Christchurch/East Dorset

As part of the evidence base, one needs to demonstrate an appreciation of the environmental characteristics of the area to understand the cultural heritage values of the Borough and District. Its history, fabric and character' must be recognised and its significance established. This will not only include statutory designations, such as Conservation Areas, Scheduled Monuments etc but also those "familiar and cherished local scenes" (PPG 15 Planning and the historic environment).

It is unclear whether this has been undertaken for both areas.

You will need to establish whether there is sufficient information to understand the impacts of potential change outlined in the Issues and Options, whether the value of a place will be harmed and where opportunities may exist to enhance, reinforce or reveal the historic environment.

Only through understanding the significance of the historic environment is it possible to assess how the qualities that people value are vulnerable to harm or loss. That understanding should then provide the basis for developing and implementing a managed and strategic response via the LDF. Your Core Strategy must be based on an understanding of its likely impact on the significance of the historic environment to ensure it is consistent with PPG 15 and 16; it is coherent and is the most appropriate approach based on the application of robust and credible evidence (PPS 12 - Local Development Framework).

'Characterisation' is a tool promoted by English Heritage and the RSS to examine a place and identify its essential qualities and character. It helps to build understanding of a settlement or area's historic environment - including its topography, landscape setting, archaeology, architecture, spaces and design features. An understanding of how these elements manifest themselves should help inform the process of sustainably managing change, and helping to enhance local characteristics instead of undermining them. Preparing such evidence will ensure due conformity with the RSS (ENV I and 5); the means to properly consider an appropriate spatial strategy; compatibility with PPG I5 and 16 and; Tests of Soundness 4 and 7.

This evidence can then also be used as the baseline by which the spatial strategy and other actions can be planned and then monitored with an appropriate indicator. Until this is applied it is difficult to assess the growth options you suggest.

Conservation, archaeology and urban design colleagues at local and county level should be able to advise, particularly, in respect of the use of the existing Historic Environment Record.
